

Technology Transition Corporation Welcomes Aaron Aber
As Newest Project Assistant for Biomass Business

TTC is pleased to announce that Aaron Aber has joined our staff, providing administrative and policy support for our Biomass business!

Aaron joined TTC in June 2016 and will serve as a Project Assistant for the Biomass Thermal Energy Council. Prior to joining TTC, his previous work has included promoting grassroots environmental advocacy with the Maryland Public Interest Research Group and conducting environmental justice research with the University of Maryland School of Public Health. He has also interned with the U.S. Department of Justice, where he assisted attorneys in the Natural Resource Section, and with the Socio-environmental Synthesis Center, where he studied the lives of subsistence fishers on the Anacostia River in DC. His undergraduate research also focused on communities in Western Maryland and Charleston, South Carolina.

Aaron holds a B.S. in Environmental Science and Policy, and graduated from the University of Maryland, College Park in 2016.
